

Natursteine

Oberflächen; geledert & poliert

Africa Impala
Atlantis
Astoria Cream

Black Pearl
Cinza Antas
Coffee Brown

Infinity Brown	 A dark, textured material with a complex, fibrous pattern. The base color is a deep charcoal or black, with intricate, lighter-colored veins and fibers weaving through it, creating a marbled or crystalline appearance.
Ivory Fantasy	 A light-colored, speckled material. The base is a pale cream or off-white, densely populated with small, dark brown and black specks. There are also some larger, faint tan or beige spots scattered throughout, giving it a granite-like or stone-like texture.
Mystic Grey	 A dark, heavily textured material. The overall color is a dark charcoal grey, but it is covered in a dense, intricate pattern of lighter grey and black fibers or granules. The texture appears very rough and fibrous, similar to a heavy-duty fabric or a mineral aggregate.

Nero Assoluto	 A dark, almost black granite with a fine, uniform texture and very subtle variations in tone.
Neuhauser Granit	 A light-colored granite with a dense, speckled pattern of small, dark and light mineral grains.
Paradiso Silver	 A dark granite with prominent, wavy, light-colored veins and a complex, marbled pattern.

Spice Black	 A dark, almost black granite surface with a fine, granular texture and subtle variations in tone, giving it a rich, dark appearance.
Steel Grey	 A granite surface with a complex, multi-toned pattern. It features a mix of dark grey, black, and light grey tones, with some areas showing a more crystalline or veined structure.
Viscount White	 A light-colored granite surface, primarily white and light grey, with a dense, speckled texture. It has a more uniform appearance compared to the other two, with subtle variations in the light tones.

Pannonia Grün

